Ninth Annual Report.

To the Members of Salem Bible Class:

MY DEAR FRIENDS: In accordance with our usual custom, we meet this day to receive a report of the operations of this Class for the year just passed away. Let it then be to us all, a day of thanksgiving and prayer. The former in view of the many mercies bestowed upon us individually and collectively, and the latter, that He, who so kindly watched over us in the past, may continue to be in the year just opened, our Refuge and our Strength.

On the sixth of January we held the annual election for Officers with the result as given on the first page of this report. On the tenth of March, Mrs. Lillie Graybill who had served us as one of our Organists for more than two years, was with us for the last time, as she with her husband Mr. C. M. Graybill, a few days thereafter left this city for Dodge City, Kansas: as also Mr. Charles R. Kiger who was one of our collectors for more than six years, and who the same week also left Harrisburg for Louisville, Kentucky. Miss Catharine Kelker, another of our Organists for more than seven years—was called to perform similar duties in the Broad Street Reformed Sunday School; Mr. Rush W. Ensminger was elected to fill the vacancy, but he shortly after became the organist in the Second Department of the First Lutheran Sabbath School, and this left the entire labor of this important part of our work to be performed by the remaining Organist Miss Mary A. Wagner, who has faithfully served us for five years, and who deserves and receives the hearty thanks of our whole Class for the fidelity she has shown. When Miss Wagner was detained through sickness or out of town, in the past year, we had the kind assistance of Miss Mary Altmaier. Of late our instrumental music has been further improved by the services of Mr. Charles H. Chayne as flutist. During the past summer we parted with regret also, with Mr. William B. Muench who filled acceptably the office of Librarian since our first organization in 1870. He has united with the Ridge Avenue M. E. Sunday School.

On the fifth of May we enjoyed the annual visit and usual spirited address from our venerable friend Rev. John McCullagh, one of the oldest missionaries of the Amercan Sunday School Union. Full as ever, of love for the Master and for the important work in which he is engaged, we hope he may be spared to labor for years to come. The names of his aged and beloved fellow helpers Stephen Paxson and B. M. Chidlaw, as well as his own, have long been cherished household words in thousands of families in our land.

On the sixteenth of June our Class was taught by Prof. L. H. Gause, your teacher being severely ill; we thankfully record this act of kindness on the part of Prof. Gause. He has always willingly rendered his valuable assistance to make our meetings interesting and profitable.

On the eleventh of July, we held our Annual Pic-Nic at Derry Church. The following named members served on the respective committees:

Transportation—Jas. B. Montgomery, Wm. B. Muench.

Music—A. L. Chayne, Charles May, Miss Mary A. Wagner, Miss Rebecca Hoffman, Miss Alice Weikel.

Commissary—H. Phelps, J. Frederick Orth, Robert Williar, Charles H. Chayne, William W. Huber, George Whitcomb.

On Refreshments—Misses Jennie Gutelius, Sadie Haehnlen, Josephine Derr, Helen Gause, Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, Misses Emma Longnecker, Effie Hicks, Kate Flenders, Susan Heil-man, Sue A. White, C. Catharine Schell, Messrs Cyrus Hinckle, Lewis O. Phillips, Geo. Myers, Samuel Sheesley, John K. Shireman, Robert Keister, Frederick Wagner, William F. Gohl, Geo. H. Vantilburg, Ambrose Snyder.

Order on the Ground—John A. Koser, Charles E. Roumfort, E. S. Zollinger, Henry J. Stewart, Cornelius DuMars.

Immediately on arriving at the grounds the entire party assembled in the ancient church building, where a short religious service was held. The meals were served at 11.30 A. M. and 4 P. M. The class and guests sat down at one table as members of one family. The day was spent in singing and innocent amusements.

The various committees were assiduous in their attention, and among the guests Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Leib, deserve special mention for their zealous and successful efforts to contribute to the happiness of the party.

At five o'clock the festivities of the day were over, and we re-assembled in the church. Selections were read from the Psalms, and a number of appropriate hymns sung. A short address by your Teacher in relation to the early history of the congregation who had erected the building a century and a half ago, and the changes which had since taken place. Prayers were offered by Messrs Charles May and John Young, Sr., and a parting word and prayer by the Teacher.

The meeting was solemn and impressive, and will never be forgotten by any who were present.

A lingering farewell look at the sacred old church, now fast falling into decay, and we slowly wended our way to the railway station. We had not long to wait, for the train soon arrived, and in a little while all were safely home again.

During the year just passed quite a large number of our members have been called to endure severe affliction and bereavement. Some have been very near the gates of death, but a merciful God has lengthened their lives and restored them to wonted health. Only one of our number has been called away, Mrs. ELMIRA BOUBEL LEIGHTON, wife of Mr. Samuel Leighton.

They were married early in the year, and removed from this place to the Dupont Powder Mills, near Wilmington, Delaware, where Mr. Leighton obtained employment. About the tenth of October a terrible explosion occurred at the Powder Mills. The dwelling of Mr. Leighton was in such close proximity, that although it was uninjured, the shock so seriously affected the health of Mrs. Leighton that she never fully recovered, and on the morning of the fourteenth of October at five o'clock she fell asleep in Jesus. Her remains were brought to the home of her grief stricken parents in Grape Avenue, where funeral services were held at 2 P. M., on the 16th of October. The deceased sister was a member of Boas Street United Brethren church. Her Pastor Rev. L. A. Peters being absent from the city, the services were conducted by Rev. George A. Sigler of the Fourth Street Congregation of the Church of God, who made a most solemn and appropriate address.

Miss Beckie Hoffman and Miss Mary Altmaier with Mr. Charles May and Mr. A. L. Chayne sang at the house the deceased's favorite hymn "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," and at the grave the beautiful hymn "Bright Forever."

Our beloved classmate was a woman of decided piety. Though young in years she had endured many earthly trials and afflictions. Divine grace supported her in a remarkable manner. Her conversation was of heaven, of the abounding love of Jesus, and kindred themes. She seemed to possess an assured faith, and her chief anxiety was that all whom she loved might love Jesus. She united with the Class August 1, 1875, and was exemplary for her faithful and diligent attendance.

On the 27th of October we revived, and placed upon a more permanent basis our plan for systematic visitation of the members. The Class was divided in twenty sections, and one member appointed for each section. The appointee has the privilege of associating with himself or herself, any other member desired; or two of the appointees may visit together. These class visitors have a supervision over the persons whose names are on their cards, observe whether they are in their places on the Sabbath, and if absent find out the cause. The whole corps of visitors meets the second Thursday of each month for consultation, and prayer, and also to receive other cards from the Teacher, who has added thereon names of such persons as may have united with the Class since the previous meeting.

This plan if faithfully carried out, will result in great benefit. It is not intended to supplant the visiting of the members by the Teacher, but is for the purpose of bringing about a more intimate acquaintance of the members with each other, and to train them for the same duties in the respective churches to which they now or hereafter may belong. It is expected that the visitors will immediately advise the Teacher of any sickness that may exist, and of all other matters which may have a bearing upon their relations to the Class.

In the latter part of October a District Sunday School Institute was held in the U. B. Boas Street Church, conducted by Col. Robert Cowden, of Galion, Ohio, who is the General Secretary of the United Brethren Sunday School Association of the United States. It was our privilege to attend this Institute, and finding the leader a gentleman eminently qualified to impart instruction, an arrangement was made with him to visit our Class at an early day. Accordingly Col. Cowden appeared before us on the third of November and gave us a most interesting and profitable series of lessons on the chronology of the events, institutions, and men of the Bible. On motion of Prof. Gause, the thanks of the Class were unanimously tendered by a rising vote, to Col. Cowden. We feel quite certain that the lecture left a lasting impression for good, and that the subject of chronology which has been so much neglected by us, will in the future receive far more attention.

On the tenth of November we were rejoiced to have in our midst once more, our aged and venerable fellow citizen, Jacob Houser, one of the teachers of the first Sunday School established in Harrisburg. At the close of our meeting he offered an impressive prayer filled with earnest appeals to our Heavenly Father to prosper and bless the work in which we are engaged, and that every member might experience God's converting grace.

On the twenty-fourth of November by our request Mr. Samuel M. Sayford formerly of this place, but at this time General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Syracuse, New York, gave us a Bible reading on "The Word and how to study the Bible." Many useful suggestions were made by the speaker, and he was listened to with great interest. We could not help at the time sending up to God our heartfelt prayer that our young friends' life and health may long be spared thus to labor in the Redeemer's cause.

On the twentieth of December our Ninth Annual Reunion was held in the Armory of the City Grays, corner of Second and Forster Streets. As heretofore, the meeting was one of great social enjoyment. Upwards of two hundred and fifty persons were present. The Committee of Arrangements were Messrs. James B. Montgomery, David L. Fortna, Geo. B. Myers, John A. Koser, Harvey Phelps, Chas. May and Robert Williar. Prof. L. H. Gause read the opening essay on "Caste," showing that Christianity is the great leveler of caste.

Another member of the Class Mr. Charles May also read an essay, choosing for his subject "Music, its influence for good and for evil."

These essays were followed by an address by Rev. M. L. Ganoe, Pastor of St. Paul's M. E. Church Vine Street, on "The advantages of Bible study," and the facilities now at hand for the successful study of the Word.

We congratulate all these friends who did so much to entertain us on that occasion, and the members of the Class at their meeting the following Sabbath, showed their appreciation of these services by the unanimous adoption of a resolution of thanks to them respectively.

A very pleasant and happily written letter was also read by the Teacher, received on the morning of the Re-union from Mrs. Joseph E. Hoopes, formerly Miss Nettie Ensminger, for eight years a member of our Class, now settled in Kansas City, Missouri, in which she expressed her regret that Mr. Hoopes and herself could not be present with us and the sad thought that, having removed from Harrisburg her name must necessarily be dropped from the Register on which it has stood since the summer of 1870. Mrs. H. suggested that a Register of the Ex-members be inserted at the close of the Souvenir. Perhaps this may be done in some future Report, when our worthy friend shall most assuredly be remembered.

The music on the occasion was under the direction of Mr. A. L. Chayne assisted by the Misses Beckie Hoffmann, Alice and Lillie Wikel, Alice Blosser, Mary Altmaier, Mary E. Reichard and Sadie B. Chayne.

Miss Mary A. Wagner presided at the organ, and our Flutists were Messrs. Charles H. Chayne, and W. Wikel.

As in 1877 so in 1878 quite a large number of our members removed from the City, and others entered various Sunday Schools, connected with our churches at home. We have not space to particularize. Many of them were of those longest connected with the Class. We miss them from their accustomed places, and feel their absence greatly. But change is written indelibly on all that is earthly. A saving interest in an unchangeable Redeemer, is then the only abiding solace we have in our separation. If truly linked to Him, in this life, our eternal re-union in Heaven is assured. Nothing can separate us from Him or each other. One by one we drop out of our Roll, one by one we shall lie down to rest, one by one we shall enter our final Home, but in "that great day for which all other days were made" in the twinkling of an eye, we shall at once appear and meet to part no more.

It is worthy of note that so many of our number are active members of the Y. M. C. Association, and are abundant in christian labor not only in the Association, but in their respective churches. In the early history of the Y. M. C. Association its aims were misunderstood, and some thought it was designed to act independently of the Church of Christ, and of the Christian ministry. Happily, this unjust suspicion is dispelled in a great measure, and the Association ranks as it should, as a co-worker with the church.

The number of persons who are willing to take up the cross of praying in public has also increased in our Class, and we have noticed with great thankfulness to God that there is a deeper interest felt in religion. Scores of your number seem to enjoy a calm peaceful trust in Jesus. Many have not yet professed the Saviour publicly, but they are on the verge of taking the step and held back by an unseen influence they know not how or what. To these dear precious souls we would say in the words of the hymn:

Only a step to Jesus!
Then why not take it now?

* * * *

Only a step to Jesus,
Believe and thou shalt live!
Lovingly now He's waiting,
And ready to forgive!

We must be permitted in closing this report to allude to the departure of our life long friend and fellow laborer, one who felt a deep interest in our work, and who was on the fourteenth of March 1878, called home to God. JAMES W. WEIR, has gone up higher! but his works do follow him. When the sad tidings were announced that he was no more, our whole city mourned. And well it might, for a good man had fallen, and there was none to take his place. He was born in our midst; was a diligent student; a fearless advocate of the truth; a loving counsellor; a model Sunday School Teacher and Superintendent; an honored Elder in his church; a beautiful writer of prose and poetry; an honest financier; an humble and devoted Christian. Of him it can truly be said: "He walked with God, and was not, for God took him." When this Class was organized as an un-denominational one, he was the first to extend the hand of friendship, and offered the lecture room of the Market Square Presbyterian church free of expense, and for a period as long as desired, for our accommodation.

His interest in our enterprise never faltered, and he had always words of cheer and encouragement. When he could, he visited us, and on the occasion of his last visit, he con. gratulated us on the comfortable and pleasant room we occupy, and in his parting address remarked that, the Schoolboard through whose kindness we are here, "honored themselves in their generous conduct to this Class."

We have known no man to whom we could, more safely point young men as an exemplar worthy of their imitation.

We gratefully acknowledge the kindness of the Board of School Directors of this District in permitting us to continue to occupy this room another year, and trust that they may be abundantly blessed by Him, who recognizes every favor done to His people as done unto Him.

The events of 1878, with all we have said or done or thought, have been registered in the book of God's remembrance: they are each, and all beyond recall.

They will confront us at the judgment seat. Let us seek forgiveness for the errors of the past, and enter upon 1879 with new and high resolves to dedicate ourselves anew to God. Frail and helpless in ourselves, let us lay hold upon One who is mighty. He only is our sure defence and support in the trials incident to this life. For wise purposes He has vailed the future, so that we know not what is before us. Our last year on earth will sooner or later arrive. Perhaps 1879 will number us with the dead. How solemn the thought, and how anxious should we be to make our last days the most fruitful in works of righteousness and love. May the opening year be to each of us a "Happy New Year" in the best and highest sense. Whether we live, let us live unto the Lord, that should we die, we may die in the Lord, so that living or dying, we may be the Lord's.

Yours in Christian love,

RUDOLPH F. KELKER.
